

East Sacramento Preservation

Presents

Dr. Ed Pandolfino

BIRDING IN EAST SACRAMENTO

Wednesday

May 11, 2011

7-8 pm

McKinley Park's Clunie Community Center

East Sacramento Room

601 Alhambra Blvd

F Street and Alhambra Blvd

Dr. Pandolfino will present information and photography to help urban dwellers understand the diversity and bird ecosystems of East Sacramento.

He will discuss how to attract birds to your backyard and you'll get basic tips on how to identify the most common species likely to visit. There will also be suggestions for neighborhood walks that showcase the variety of birds sharing our neighborhood canopy.

Dr. Pandolfino is Vice-president of Western Field Ornithologists and is on the board of Sierra Foothills Audubon Society. He is a Northern California editor for the magazine North American Birds and is on the editorial committee of the Central Valley Bird Club Bulletin. He was formerly vice-president of San Francisco Bay Bird Observatory.
Cedar Waxwing Photo by Jack Ferrante